(c) if so, the details thereof; and

(d) whether Government proposes to revise the NELP or to impose a cess on the windfall profits made by the private oil companies?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PETROLEUM AND NATURAL GAS (SHRI DINSHA J. PATEL): (a) Increase in crude oil prices may not permit windfall profits since cost of Exploration and Production (E&P) operations has also increased. There would also be higher royalty and corporate tax pay outs by the oil companies. Further, crude oil prices have shown a declining trend since August, 2008.

(b) to (d) Yes, Sir. Global crude prices were much below the present global crude prices at the time of adoption of New Exploration Licensing Policy (NELP) in 2000. As per BP Statistics 2008, Brent Crude oil price was US $ 28.5 per barrel in 2000 and US $ 72.39 per barrel in 2007. In December 2008, the crude oil prices are hovering around US $ 40 per barrel.

A High Powered Committee under the Chairmanship of Shri B.K. Chaturvedi, Member, Planning Commission was set up to examine the financial position of oil Companies. Dr. Saumitra Chaudhuri, Member, Prime Minister's Economic Advisory Council and Dr. Arvind Virmani, Chief Economic Advisor Government of India were the other members of the Committee. The High Power Committee has given recommendations on various issues including windfall profits. The recommendations of the Committee are being examined.
